

Colin A Jupp

Mr. Colin A. Jupp was born in Nassau on 25th July 1981. He studied History and Philosophy at King's Colljicibekaku@gmail.com London at the University of Western Ontario, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts Degree, Double Honors. Following that, he read law and studied theology at King's College London at the University of London in England, graduating with a Bachelor of Laws LLB Degree with Upper Second-Class Honors and an AKC (Associate of King's College) for completing his Theological Studies.

He then obtained his Masters of Law LLM degree from King's College London at the University of London in England specializing in Banking and Finance Law with Merit. He then successfully completed his Bar Vocational Training at the Inns of Court School of Law in London England and was called to both the Bar of England and Wales and The Bahamas in 2008.

He is a Partner at the law firm of Peter D. Maynard Counsel and Attorneys, and a lecturer at Omega College, Nassau Bahamas, in Business and Labour Law. He has co-authored several articles which have been published in leading journals including 'Planning and Administration of Offshore and Onshore Trusts Issue 33', 'Oxford Journals' Trust and Trustees, 2011', and

The Journal of International Tax, Trust and Corporate Planning Issue 2 Vol. 18, 2011 among others.

He is a member of The Rotary Club of South East Nassau where he is a Paul Harris Fellow and former chair of the Youth and Literacy Committee. He regularly conducts pro bono legal clinics on Wills and Estate Planning and is a promoter of arbitration regionally as an organizer of the annual Arbitration and Investment Summit put on by Peter D. Maynard Counsel and Attorneys over the past decade.

In his spare time, he enjoys reading philosophy, playing basketball, squash, swimming and traveling.