

Fiona Scolding QC

Fiona Scolding QC is an English barrister specialising in cases concerning administrative law and human rights. She specialises in cases concerning social justice and human rights. She also represents bodies in public inquiries and investigations, having spent 5 years as counsel to the Inquiry at the English child sex abuse inquiry and having run several large-scale internal investigations for public and private bodies.

She is also an accredited mediator and has undertaken mediations with a commonwealth element.

She also sits as a part time upper tribunal judge in England hearing cases concerning appeals from various tribunals and bodies.